The Hallway

upon the rug
a dog is laying
I hear the sound
of children playing

caves have tunnels
but homes have halls
there are pictures
on the walls

long and straight
swept by brooms
it brings us to
connected rooms

AH poetryfactory